Mr Elmer Bong Labog:

As the Chairperson of Kilusang Mayo Uno (KMU), Mr Elmer Bong Labog is a leader in the struggle for trade union rights in the Philippines, one of the most dangerous countries in the world to be a unionist. Since the rise to power of President Duterte, more than forty-three unionists have been murdered.

“ Under Duterte, workers' wages are pegged far below living standards, contractualisation remains rampant, and unemployment is still one of the worst in Asia. If Duterte can't do anything about it, then he must go. **”

Kilusang Mayo Uno (KMU):

Kilusang Mayo Uno (KMU) is an independent trade union federation that represents over 115,000 union members. It is joining forces with other unions in the Philippines, including SENTRO, to campaign against the Duterte government's attacks on union members. On the solidarity tour, the KMU will encourage Australian trade unionists to help build international pressure to #StoptheAttacks.
